Art Unit: 1754

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 6, 8-13 and 22-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Humble et al, for the reasons given in the last Office Action. Applicants' argument, that the ceramic fiber material taught in Humble et al does not form an interior surface within the vessel at all, let alone a conical interior surface within the vessel, is not convincing. Humble et al disclose at col. 5, lines 9-15 that refractory lining 457 "preferably" covers the inner surface of cone skirt 463 and cone portion 453. Since Humble et al merely "prefer" that refractory lining 457 cover cone portion 453, it is clear that Humble et al contemplates an embodiment where refractory lining 457 does not cover the inner surface of cone portion 453, since such an embodiment would be a non-preferred embodiment to Humble et al, and it is well settled that non-preferred embodiments constitute teachings upon which anticipation or obviousness may be based. In any event, it would be obvious to omit refractory lining 457 from covering the inner surface of cone portion 453 in the apparatus of Humble et al, since Humble et al suggest at col. 5, lines 9-15 that such lining does not have to cover the inner surface of cone surface 453, merely “preferring” that it be covered. Ceramic fiber blanket 467 would form a conical interior surface within the inlet transition section in the apparatus of Humble et al when refractory lining 457 does not cover cone portion 453.

Claim 35 is allowed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
